

International Journal of Chemical and Pharmaceutical Review and Research

Instruction for Reviewers

- Peer review is helpful for author(s) in improving the paper standard.
- It is also helpful for the Editor(s) and the Editorial Board in making editorial decisions.
- Any selected referee who feels incapable of reviewing the paper may kindly inform the Editor so as arrange the alternative.
- Reviewers are requested to keep the review work confidential.
- Reviewers are requested to review the paper to maintain the quality of the paper and hence, the standard of the journal.
- If any plagiarism or fraudulent data observed in the paper, the reviewers are requested to point out so as to reject the paper.
- Any similarity or overlap between the paper under review and other published paper may kindly be informed to the Editor for modification by the author(s).
- If the paper under review does not give information about the citation of the relevant related published work, the reviewer may kindly be requested to identify the same.
- Reviewers are requested not to make any personal criticism of the author(s)
- Finally, reviewers are requested not to review the paper in which they are directly or indirectly connected with the paper's author(s).

For further details, Please visit www.ijcpr.com